Form 990 - Organization's Mission

Senior Center, Inc.'s (doing business as "The Center") mission is to positively impact our community by creating opportunities for healthy aging through social engagement, physical well-being, civic involvement, creativity, and lifelong learning. The start of fiscal year 2023 (April 1, 2022-March 31, 2023) coincided with the end of the COVID-19 health emergency, setting the stage for a year of much-anticipated growth in program participation and membership at The Center at Belvedere. Visits to healthy aging programs increased by almost 30% as more older adults sought out social and physical activity, creative pursuits, educational opportunities, and more. In FY23, with the addition of Saturday and evening hours and the support of a community of volunteers, donors, and staff, The Center was able to create and deliver more than 24,000 hours of healthy aging programming-via almost 8,500 programs and events-to support the physical fitness, social ties, lifelong learning, resiliency, and independence of older adults. To ensure these healthy aging programs are accessible to all, the organization Center provided $47,000 in scholarships. In its role as a community resource, The Center also provided $97,500 worth of donated or discounted space to area nonprofits.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b - Second Accomplishment

Fitness/Physical Wellness - The Center offered over 60 recurring high quality, senior-appropriate fitness and physical wellness programs and dozens of single programs designed to improve or maintain the physical health of community participants so they can remain independent and enjoy a better quality of life. Members participated 26,532 times in fitness and physical wellness programs, which are created to be affordable, meet a wide range of ability levels, and preserve or increase functional fitness. Additionally, they help delay, decrease, or prevent chronic diseases-which account for 75% of U.S. health care spending and are the leading cause of death and disability in the U.S. In program evaluations, 96% of participants reported better flexibility, energy, and balance. 90% reported feeling more mentally alert and having made new friends.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c - Third Accomplishment

Volunteer Opportunities - Not only does research show an impressive relationship between volunteering and good health, but it also suggests that the physical and mental benefits are greater for people 65 and older. 335 Center volunteers contributed 24,707 hours of service at the Center and at 40 nonprofits throughout our community. According to the Virginia Office on Volunteerism and Community Services, the economic impact of these volunteer service hours equates to over $805,103. Clinical studies show that seniors who volunteer are happier, have an increased sense of well-being, enjoy broader social networks, and live longer; 100% of volunteers surveyed at The Center reported feeling a sense of accomplishment and made new friends. With limited paid staffing, volunteers provide much of the labor required to run The Center, allowing us to keep the costs of programs and services low. These volunteers are also changing the way people think about older adults-using their talents and skills in myriad ways to better the community, seniors show they are active, involved, and essential.

Lifelong Learning/Intellectual Wellness - This important programming enables participants to grow intellectually, spiritually, and/or creatively, and they did so 7,120 times. Neuroscientists and gerontologists have deemed lifelong learning essential to healthy aging; participants in these programs develop new skills and connect with others while gaining a broader understanding of the world. The Center offered over 76 recurring and stand-alone high-quality lifelong learning programs. In recent participant surveys, 99% reported that they learned something new and 98% said that they would put this knowledge to use.

Arts, Performing Arts, and Crafts - Global studies link arts participation with positive cognitive, social, and behavioral outcomes across the lifespan; its proven effectiveness and cost-effectiveness as a health promotion strategy offer incredible potential for community health. Members participated more than 7,246 times in over 100 Center arts, performing arts, and arts and crafts programming. Arts programming offers instruction and provides performance opportunities that encourage self-expression and creativity.

Partner Organization Programs - The Center regularly partners with other community nonprofits to share limited resources and enhance the delivery of physical, intellectual, and/or social support services. Through partner programming, community participants can access a greater variety of services and activities that align with our region's public health priorities. Partner program collaborations include community support groups such as Hospice of the Piedmont, AARP's Tax Aide, evidence-based wellness programs offered with JABA, financial wellness programs in conjunction with CFA Institute, and fitness and arts programming with Charlottesville Ballet, to name a few.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11b - Organization's Process to Review Form 990

The Board of Directors Finance and Audit Committee reviews the Form 990 and ensure its accuracy before it is filed. The Form 990 is provided to the entire Board of Directors for their review prior to filing with IRS.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 12c - Enforcement of Conflicts Policy

New Board members sign a document acknowledging the review and understanding and adherence to our conflict of interest policy.

Additionally, the President and Executive Director when preparing Board agendas consider if there are any potential conflicts of interest that may arise.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 15a - Compensation Process for Top Official

The Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of Senior Center, Inc. is charged with the responsibility of making recommendation regarding the salary of the Executive Director. In fulfilling this responsibility, the Committee considers a number of related factors, including evaluating the quality of performance. The Committee, consisting entirely of independent individuals, conducts an informal evaluation of the Executive Director's performance as needed, and a formal evaluation, which has been developed by the Executive Committee, in April of each year. In preparation for the formal evaluation, the Director gives the committee a written report of accomplishments and identifies strong points and any area(s) where improvement is needed. In addition to the Committee's review of performance, each member of the Board of Directors completes an anonymous evaluation of the Executive Director, which is tabulated by the Chair of the Executive Committee. The Chair of that committee and the President of the Board of Directors, if different, meet with the Executive Director for a formal evaluation. The findings of the evaluation are shared with the Board, which then confirms or adjusts the salary increase.

To arrive at fair compensation, the committee reviews periodically the salary ranges of nonprofit organizations in the area, including use of independent salary surveys, compares where we are on the scale, and then recommends to the Board any compensation adjustment. It is The Center's belief that fair and just compensation is in the best interest of The Center as a retention and recruitment strategy. In determining the salary for the current Executive Director, much consideration is given to his vision for the future of the Center, his ability to translate that vision into long-range planning, and a track record of leadership qualities needed to carry out and sustain the vision. Minutes of Committee meetings are kept to ensure contemporaneous substantiation is documented.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 15b - Compensation Process for Officers

Currently the Organization does not have any employees who meet the definition of a key employee and no officers, other than the Executive Director, receive compensation. If this changes, the same process as that used for determining the compensation of the Executive Director will be used.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 19 - Governing Documents Disclosure Explanation

Center Bylaws, which include our conflict of interest policy, are available and are circulated to anyone who requests them. Our annual audit and Form 990 are also on our website and are made available upon request.
