Memberhship + Philanthropic Giving = Healthy Aging for All
The Center receives no operating funding from state, local, or federal governments and, as a nonprofit, depends on philanthropic support from individuals, foundations, corporations, and civic groups to fund the greater part of its annual operations and keep the cost of membership affordable. Philanthropic support also provides scholarship funds for seniors who express financial need. Our members are our first and most loyal donors because they see the value of The Center every day.

The Center is an independent nonprofit with IRS501(c)(3) tax-exempt status, which raises funds to create opportunities for healthy aging through social engagement, physical well-being, civic involvement, creativity, and lifelong learning.
